Tour Description and Results

The Back Alley Tour is used to visit places no one else is likely to go. In exploratory testing terms, the least likely features to be used and the ones that are the least attractive to users. I choose The Back Alley Tour because there are always such pages, buttons, features etc on the website which are rarely used. It's really interesting to explore these places and find something new and hidden. Often such places have some UI bugs, localization errors, usability issues, and uncritical functional bugs.
